MOSQUITO DENGUE PREVENTION

Dear Residents,

There has been an increase in number of cases of dengue fever as reported by NEA. Random spot checks are also being carried out by NEA within the estate to check for breeding grounds.

We are regularly cleaning and ensuring that our estate common areas are free from any stagnant water.

We urge all owners and occupants to do their part to prevent mosquito breeding and turn dengue awareness into action and make it your weekly habit to get rid of stagnant water in your units.

Appended below are some suggestions to prevent mosquito breeding:

1. Remove stagnant water from flower pot plates daily. Clean and scrub the plate thoroughly to remove mosquito eggs. Avoid the use of pot plates if possible. Loosen soil from potted plants to prevent the accumulation of stagnant water on the surface of the hardened soil
2. Overturn unused pails and containers and store them somewhere away from rain wherever possible.
3. Avoid placing potted plants and other paraphernalia over scupper drains where the flow of water should be unblocked
4. Discard unwanted containers and do not leave them outdoors
5. For those units not occupied for a long period of time, put oil into floor traps and regularly flush the cisterns. Cover up rarely used gully traps

We seek your understanding and cooperation in this matter is very appreciated. Thank you.

With regards,
